HONGKONG, FRIDAY, JUNE 14, 1895.

REUTER'S TELEGRAMS.

THE JEDDAH OUTRAGE.

LONDON, June 13th.

Great Britain, France and Russia have demanded the disarming of the bedouins and the payment of an indemnity for the recent outrage at Jeddah. The Porte in reply urges the extreme difficulty of effecting a disarmament.

FRANCE AND EGYPT.

A Committee of the French Chamber has resolved to demand a full discussion in the Chamber concerning the petition of native Egyptians organized by M. Delcasse against the reformation of judicial procedure.

SPAIN AND THE CUBAN REVOLT.

The Spanish Government has decided to quell the rebellion in Cuba at any cost, and is preparing to despatch 40,000 men in August.

(Special to Siam Observer.)

UMRA KHAN.

SIMLA, May 31st.

A message has been received here stating that the Amir has consented to grant Umra Khan, who is a prisoner in Afghanistan, a second interview. The latter is now being treated with more consideration than formerly, and is lodged for the present in the house of the late Naib Sultan, Kotwal of the city.

TURKEY AND THE POWERS.

LONDON, June 2nd.

The Turkish police at Mush, in Bitlis, a province of Armenia, have grossly affronted the members of the Commission appointed by the Powers to enquire into the atrocities in that country. They entered the residence of the Commission and behaved in a threatening and insulting manner, being at last expelled only with the greatest difficulty. The position of affairs has thus become complicated, and a grave crisis has occurred in the relations with the Porte, as a result of which the British Mediterranean squadron has been ordered to Beyrout.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

WE hear that Mr. W. Cartwright has been appointed Commission of Customs for Kowloon and District.

AN "old timer" of Victoria Gaol went into everlasting retirement last night, the cause thereof being a severe attack of congestion of the lungs.

AT the Magistracy, this morning, before Mr. Wodehouse, Chia Wei Chan, a brothel keeper, was fined $25 for making unnecessary noise over a game of Celestial cards.

AT the Magistracy this morning the Master of the steamship Ruben charged James Jones, seaman, for refusing duty and quitting the ship without leave. Result: "Two weeks hard."

AT the Institution of Engineers this evening at 8.45 p.m. Mr. W. C. Jack will read a paper on "Engineering and Shipbuilding in the Far East." The reading of the paper will be followed by a smoking concert.

EDWARD Bowles, marine, of the H.M.S. Victor Emanuel, was "up" this morning for being half-seas-over last night and being very offensive. As a "fiver" settled the matter "Jack" smole a bonnie British smile from ear to ear and all down his back and broked "real good again."

A FIRE broke out on the ground floor of No. 76, Jervoise Street at 2 a.m. this morning. The building, which was occupied by a Chinese clothier, was completely gutted. The Master was at Canton at the time, as usual. As to the origin of the fire that is just one of those puzzles to which we are well accustomed in these realms of the blest and for which a patent solution is very greatly needed.

THE following changes in the disposition of the Staff of the Imperial Maritime Customs are likely to take place very shortly:—Mr. H. B. Morse, Commissioner at Tamsui, goes to Shanghai as Deputy Commissioner; Mr. J. Newman, of the same port, proceeds to Shanghai as Acting Deputy Commissioner; Mr. Smollet Cambell and Mr. J. van Aalst return to Peking from Shanghai; Mr. J. A. Kerr is transferred from Chunking to Shanghai; Mr. T. Hance (Assistant) of Foochow, goes home on leave on 1st proximo, while Mr. Meerhouse, who is now at Foochow, is about to proceed to Pakhoi in the capacity of Acting Commissioner.

SPEAKING at the services in celebration of the restoration of peace, held by the inhabitants of Osaka on May 21st, Count Ito said, the success of the Japanese Army and Navy in the late war was largely due to the strong unity of the nation, which removed all anxiety from the army and navy in the expedition. This unity should henceforth be utilised for displaying abroad the national glory of Japan. The people of Osaka did much toward supplying the wants of the expedition in the matter of money and other essentials, and thus they averted a possible financial crisis in the Empire. This action of the Osaka people was one of the most distinguished services rendered by the people in the invasion of China. Now that peace has been restored, all must remember the tenor of the Imperial Edict stating that Japan has still "further great works to achieve." The revision of the treaty with China has been as difficult as revision with European Powers. But as the result of the War, Japan secured the same position in China as Europeans and Americans. Japan is now about to enter on a war of peace. New ports are to be opened in China, at the same time that the extra-territorial system of China in Japan is abolished. The Premier therefore exhorted the Osaka people to be more diligent than ever in labouring for the development of the industries and trade of the Empire.

WE regret to hear that Dr. Percy Lord, of H.M.S. Tweed, succumbed to an attack of pneumonia at Takow (Formosa) on the 8th instant. Dr. Bishop, of H.M.S. Linnet, proceeds to Takow at once to assume duty on board the Tweed.

WE are glad to hear that there is every prospect of the entertainment to be given in the Theatre Royal on Saturday evening for the benefit of the Misses Carey turning out a complete success from every point of view. The elaborate programme will be found in our advertising columns.

A SPORADIC case of plague was discovered on the ground floor of No. 9, Holland Street, Kennedy-town, this afternoon at 3.45 p.m. The person afflicted is a Chinese girl. The patient was at once removed to Kennedy-town Hospital. The other persons living on the floor of the house in question have been placed under observation in one of the marriage, or native marine hotels, at the back of Stonecutters' Island and the premises were, at once duly disinfected.

AN exciting race took place at the Happy Valley racecourse yesterday afternoon for a purse of $100, between Lord Conyngham's Baccarat and Mr. W. A. Cruickshank's Havoc, owners up. There was quite an assemblage of ladies and gentlemen present to witness the contest. The race was hotly contested and it looked as if Baccarat would win, as he led until reaching the straight, but Havoc was too much for him and coming along in a most determined manner in the last quarter gradually overhauled his opponent and won, amidst great enthusiasm, by half a length.

THE Japan Gazette in a recent issue commented on the appointment of Mr. Satow as British Minister at Tokio in the following very sensible manner:—"Great surprise is expressed at the sudden appointment of Mr. Satow to be Minister to Japan. We confess our inability to share the feeling thus given expression to. If we are surprised at all it is that the Foreign Office, departing from precedent, did so wise a thing. Those who said good-bye to Mr. Trench felt that however quickly he might recover his return to Japan was impossible. The climate of Japan is for him utterly unsuitable. In that contingency the prompt appointment of his successor was of the essence of wisdom, and we have no doubt that Mr. Trench, on his recovery, will be appointed to a post in a more salubrious climate. Nice customs courtesy to great emergencies. Grave as the situation in Tokyo has been the next few months may witness complications of a far graver kind than any that have occurred in the history of Japan's foreign relations. Mr. Lowther seems to be run in the mould wherein great Ministers are cast, but it is no reflection upon him to say that his knowledge of the Orient is limited. Mr. Satow knows the East and in the dark days of diplomacy to come it will be of inestimable advantage to England that she should be represented at Tokyo by a man whose knowledge of things Japanese is so intimate and so thorough. We welcome this new departure as a sign that the Foreign Office is keenly alive to the exigencies of the situation and that it is prepared to depart from the rules of red-tape when British interests may be imperilled."

"DEFENDER" is the name given to the new American cup-racer, though many wanted her named "Hope," in honour of the wife of C. Oliver Iselin, a member of the syndicate, and a man who has done much for yachting in the States. The New York Sun is responsible for the name "Defender." In an editorial headed "Who Shall She Be?" the paper invited readers to select a suitable name for the boat. Mr. John Palzow, of Philadelphia, in a neat letter suggested the name and as it pleased the syndicate it was adopted.

AT Bangkok on the 1st instant a new rice mill, built to the order of the late Lok Poh Yune, Pra Nans and Dr. Yai, was completely destroyed by fire. The mill was a "three-decker" built throughout of iron, with corrugated iron roof and sides. The boilers and engine were in a shed at the North-east corner. The mill had not been working for five days owing to scarcity of paddy, but in the godown on the ground floor was stored about 610 coyans of rice which was also destroyed. The building and machinery, which, together with the land, were purchased for 240,000 ticals, are reported by the Bangkok Observer to have been insured for 120,000 ticals; a third with companies for which the Borneo Co. are agents, a third through Messrs. Windsor & Co.'s agency, and the remainder in two moieties with two other companies.

A DISPATCH reached the Japanese Government on the 1st June from Viscount Kabayama, Governor-General of Formosa. It appears from this dispatch that he left Ujina for Formosa at 6 p.m. on the 26th ult. by the Yokohama-maru, accompanied by his civil and military staff. Though rough weather was experienced from the 24th to the 26th, the vessel reached the Gulf of Chujo in the Loochoos at 9 a.m. on the 27th. The first detachment of the Imperial Bodyguard proceeding to Formosa arrived at the Loochoos in the Hiroshima, Nagoya, Wakanoura, Akashi, Hokaku, Toyoshima, Matsuyama, Yuyo, and four other transports, while four more transports were still expected. Viscount Kabayama left the Loochoos for Tamsui direct at noon the 27th, and the transports carrying the soldiers left at 6 p.m. the same day, for Keelung.

THE Handicap Billiard Tournament at the New Victoria Hotel continues to excite great interest, that popular resort being nightly crowded. The first prize is a silver cup, value $150; the second prize a silver cup value $30, and the prize for the best break is a case of P. D. C. whisky. The handicapping so far has turned out remarkably accurate, most of the games being exceeding close with exciting finishes. The following is the result up to last night:—

AT the Police Court this morning, before Mr. Wodehouse, Lo Ho Wang, a mafoo, was charged at the instance of Mr. J. Kennedy, of the Horse Repository, for furious driving in Queen's Road Central. The case was proved up to the hilt and a fine of $10 imposed and duly paid.

S. W. STANLEY, a professional billiard player who was recently on a tour with Roberts at the Cape, has arrived at Singapore from Calcutta and proposes to stay some time in the Straits. It was arranged that he should play at the Singapore Club last Saturday night against one or two of the best local amateurs. He intends giving various public performances, and teaching the art of billiards to such pupils as may offer themselves in the Straits. Stanley was at Singapore in 1882; and he says that he still finds there many of the amateurs whom he then gave a few much needed "tips" in the science of billiards.

A GOOD DEED.

The equilibrium of the occupants of the General Office of The Hongkong Telegraph was considerably upset this afternoon by a scene which will remain long in the memory of all who witnessed and took part in it. The scene was not a very imposing one, nor was it one that would, under ordinary circumstances, attract a very large attendance of the general public, for it is not every one who is charitably disposed nor does everybody believe in doing to others as they would like others to do unto them. Lots of people like to live, but they don't go through life in the firm belief that their actions should be guided by the principle of "Live and let live." But that doesn't matter very much at the present time and has little to do with the simple, albeit impressive, ceremony to which we refer and which may be briefly described as follows:—

At 3 p.m. Mr. J. W. Osborne, the proprietor of the Bay View Hotel and an old friend of the late Mr. J. D. Kiley (whose unfortunate and faithful amah was, as reported at the time, released from custody yesterday) entered our office and laying $53 on the writer's desk asked him to check over a subscription list and witness the payment of $53 to poor old Kiley's faithful domestic. The woman was thereupon called into the Office and the money was paid over to her. Upon realising what had been done for her by Mr. Kiley's friends the woman burst into tears and falling down on her knees commenced to demonstrate her gratitude by kowtowing, à la Chinoise, at the feet of the writer. Needless to add she was quickly told that there was no necessity for any demonstration of that kind; that the money had been subscribed by her late employer's friends, and that as the charge of theft "trumped up" against her had been dismissed, at the re-hearing, she bore now, as heretofore, a spotless character. Then the poor and aged creature signed a receipt for the money and went on her way rejoicing and fully convinced that "its an ill wind, indeed, that blows nobody some good" and that a free press can be rendered a mighty power in the land.

We congratulate the late Mr. Kiley's friends upon the success which attended their efforts to obtain the release of their friend's faithful servant, and have pleasure in recording the fact that by their generosity they have at all events been the means not only of making the beneficiaire happy but acted in the premises in precisely the same way as did her master so far as his slender means permitted, and as he would have done under similar circumstances.

Mr. Osborne's balance sheet, which the writer had very great pleasure in auditing, reads as follows:—

Subscriptions from friends of the late Mr. Kiley, as per List	$68
Paid lawyer's fees	15
Paid to late Mr. Kiley's amah	53
	$68

A JAPANESE CONSUL-GENERAL ON THE SURRENDER.

PREDICTS AN UPRISING OR A REVOLUTION.

When the news of the surrender of the Japanese claim to the Liao-tung peninsula arrived in New York, it is said the Japanese Consul-General refused to credit it and expressed his views in no measured terms. "I cannot believe," said Mr. Hashiguchi on May 6th, "Japan will ever submit to the unjust demands and interference of Russia. The news of the Government's surrender astonishes me.

"The sentiment of the whole Japanese nation is entirely against allowing interference by any nation in the settlement of peace with China. We will fight first and to the bitter end, whether it be Russia, France or any other country which tries to steal the fruits of our victory.

"We have conquered China and have the right of conquerors to claim Manchuria and the Liao-tung peninsula. Our troops are there now, 60,000 men, and it is the demand of the people that they remain in possession of the country. Port Arthur is the key to the Chinese empire—a Gibraltar for Japan. It is the one place of all that is important for us to retain for our future welfare. Its possession would not only be a constant reminder to China of Japan's power, but a point of vantage to hold as a menace against the conquered country.

"Japan's control of Manchuria and the harbours on that coast blocks Russia's advance in carrying out the schemes of Asiatic aggrandisement laid out by Peter the Great and followed by all succeeding Tsars. This great overbearing Power wants the East for itself, and thus selfishly, with no right, simply to enhance its own power, interferes in Japan's claim on territory won by force of arms in a just cause.

"In the past Japan and China looked upon the great power of Russia with fear. Now our nation has lost its fear and thrown off its submissive spirit. That is the feeling of the mass of the people. They would prefer war any day to submission. Their patriotism will be aroused as it was when the war with China began.

"If the Ministry has complied with Russia's demand an uprising is probable, and doubtless there will be a change in the Government, perhaps there may be a revolution. I cannot understand why the Ministry should give way in the face of such universal opposition.

"Two parties in Japan, the Progressive and the Liberal, are opposed to the Government. In the event of the Ministry being overthrown it is hardly possible that either would come into power. The time is not ripe for that. I should think the new Premier would come from the ranks of the Government party. Of the men available there is General Kuroda, now at the head of the Privy Council. He was Premier when the new Constitution was promulgated. Matsugata, the Minister of Finance, is an able man. He succeeded Premier Ito once before, and might be called on to do so again. Marshals Yamagata and Oyama are both available.

"In the event of war with Russia the initial advantage would be with Japan. There are less than 100,000 Russian troops in Siberia; the Government railroad is a long way from being complete, and it would take five or six months to mass any great number of troops on the border. The Russian fleet on the Pacific is smaller than ours and many months would elapse before more vessels could arrive from European waters. Ships would be necessary to transport troops from the mainland to Japan, and our men-of-war would fight to the last to prevent it. But even when the last of our vessels should be destroyed, the coast would still be guarded by the army and the landing of the invaders prevented.

"Japan would fight to the last. We have no fear of losing our independence through a war with Russia. It might mean the sinking of a fleet or the loss of 100,000 men, but what is that to a united people of 41,000,000 fighting for the principles and territory which they have already won by blood?

"If I know the sentiment of the people, they never will consent to Russia's depriving them of their Chinese possessions."

THE MANIFESTO OF THE PEOPLE OF CHINA.

It appears from files of the Singapore Free Press received yesterday that the "Chinese Sufferer" who forwarded a copy of The Manifesto of People of China to this office on the 30th ultimo posted a copy of that very interesting document to our independent Straits contemporary, for in the issue of that paper on the 5th instant there is published a very able leading article on the subject which we have much pleasure in reproducing, below, in extenso. Our Chinese friends may rest assured that in any bonâ fide and carefully thought out schemes for the reformation of their sadly misgoverned Empire they can safely rely on the sympathy and moral support of all right-thinking Englishmen. Our Straits contemporary's leader reads thus:—

To day we give publicity to a remarkable document which is nothing less than an open declaration of policy on the part of what is not improbably a considerable body of opinion among certain groups of the educated inhabitants of China. Its claim to authenticity rests mainly on its own internal evidence: the correspondent who forwarded it to us through the Hongkong post-office dates vaguely from "China," and, quite naturally, does not venture to entrust us with his name. He certainly could have done that with perfect safety, and would be assured of our sympathy over and above as regards the main outlines of the appeal made in the manifesto to the Emperor. In its terms it speaks plainly, and goes straight to the point. Giving voice to the intolerable sense of humiliation pervading the sections of the Chinese nation that have had the events of the recent war brought home to them, the manifesto does not scruple to lay the disasters of the Empire at the door of its system of misgovernment—a system which cripples the intelligence of the vast populations, represses all progress, and exposes the helpless people to the arbitrary rule and the oppressive exactions of a numberless horde of rapacious officials. The writer, and those for whom he stands, declares for an urgent policy of reform, and a complete reversal of the present mediæval methods of Government, the fertile cause of China's present misfortunes. While the utmost loyalty is professed to the person and throne of His Majesty Kuang-su, the manifesto does not scruple to say that that loyalty is conditional on His Majesty's compliance with the claims set forth in that document, of which a copy has been sent to the Imperial headquarters at Peking. The prayer of the memorialists is that His Majesty will assume that initiative in reform that is the prerogative and the responsibility of his position. The main demands of the Manifesto, or memorial, commend themselves to general acceptance, although there must be the immense initial difficulty caused by the slowness of the Chinese to adapt themselves to any new social arrangements. "Constitutional Government with all its beneficial reforms" is, in itself, the programme of a century for China, at the very best, although Japan has shown that her brighter and more facile intelligence is equal to assimilating with fair success much of what is implied in that phrase in a briefer space of time. "The removal of incapable officials" presupposes the existence of a system for the immediate supply of capable and honest successors. Official generations, we fear, will pass before the leaven of honesty and capacity will permeate the whole mass of official administration in China. The freedom of the press, within proper limits, will probably prove one of the most powerful agencies available for the awakening of China, but even that can do no more than reflect the intelligence of its conductors. Even in our own Colony and in Hongkong the Chinese press, with the enjoyment of liberty, is not able to rise very markedly above the ethical and intellectual level of the small reading public it serves. Still, for what it is worth, the agency of the press is, on the whole, bound to work in the right direction in helping China to "walk by itself" by and by. The minor demands are not of so much importance The tsoushang, or queue, is certainly an emblem of subjugation by the foreign Manchu dynasty. As to the system of foot-binding, common humanity would earnestly desire to see that cruel and painful process of deforming infant females put an end to. As regards opium-smoking the Chinese will make a great mistake to ask for any decree repressive of the liberty of the human being to do whatever he chooses, so long as that neither proves injurious to society nor conduces to crime. "Constitutional, Government," when it comes, will take good care of that, and even in the much more serious question of spirits and beer in England (more serious because productive of crime) it is becoming obvious that the working classes will not consent to "decree" themselves out of their right to what they choose in a matter so largely of individual choice and free will.

The chief feature of the manifesto, however, is its display of a spirit of determination to move along distinct lines of action towards a definite end, the rescue of China from the enslavement of centuries of misrule, and the adoption of principles of Government on a popular basis in such a way as to bring China into line with Western civilisation and Western systems of administration. Japan has succeeded to a marvel, and all that has been achieved in a few short years. Why should not China endeavour to do the same, and with a reasonable hope of equal success? Then again the manifesto, though it does not actually say so, betrays a consciousness of the fact that if China's power, as now controlled, has been quite unable to make a stand against Japan's modern military methods, a revolution against the Chinese Government, even if it does not at the outset have great masses of men at command, would, if recourse be had to the use of foreign military methods, advisers, and material, do much to gain so solid a footing in the quarter selected for a beginning that it might be easy ultimately to deal with the troops that the Government might bring against it. If Gordon had been upon the side of the Taeping rebels China would have been revolutionised, and the late chapters of disaster might never have been written. That China here and there is in a state of angry unrest is visible enough, and the manifesto we print to-day doubtless in what directions that feeling of irritation and discontent, with the existing state of things, might easily make itself manifest in a movement of organised revolt.

A Court of Inquiry was concluded at Liverpool on April 18th to inquire into the circumstances attending the stranding of the British ship Andrada on the West coast, while bound from Tacoma to Liverpool. The court found that the stranding of the vessel was caused by the master mistaking a light to be the Coningbeg Light, and thereafter steering improper courses, coupled with the non-use of the lead. The Court found the master, G. A. Adams, in default, and suspended his certificate for three calendar months.

The German cruiser Prinzess Wilhelm arrived at Colombo on the 27th May on her way to China. She is a second-class cruiser with a displacement of 4,400 tons. She is 339 ft. 6 in. long, with a beam of 46 ft., and a draught of 21 ft. Her indicated horse-power is 8,000, and she can do over 18 knots in the way of speed. She has six 4 ton guns, and eight 24-ton guns. She was launched in 1887 and cost £220,000. It is said that the Prinzess Wilhelm will be followed by a second-class battleship, the Kaiser—a much finer vessel, her tonnage being 7,676, while she is armed with eight 23 ton guns and seven 4 ton guns. The Kaiser was built in 1874 and cost £412,000.

THE LAW OF SALVAGE.

The following is distinctly interesting:—

To the Editor of the Journal of Commerce—Sir,—Will you kindly inform me if a ship is entirely abandoned, and is taken possession of by any other craft, whether the ship in question does or does not become the property of those who take her in charge? Yours, etc.

J. P.

Liverpool, March 1st, 1895.

[The answer to our correspondent's question is that the property in the abandoned ship does not pass to the salvor. The original owner, or his servants, may, and do, entirely abandon it, but they do so, not because they are tired of the possession of a valuable ship and (as agents for the cargo-owners) of the custody of a valuable cargo, but because, through circumstances beyond their control, they are compelled to depart out of the ship to save their lives. The salvor comes along and takes possession, and brings the ship into a safe port. He thereby earns for himself a right to compensation for his trouble, risk and skill. To enforce this right, and to obtain his compensation, he brings an action in rem against the vessel, her cargo and freight. Subject to his rights under this action, the property remains in the original owners. On action brought, salvage may be awarded to an amount equal to 50 per cent. on the values involved. If the original owner has not made a sufficient tender before the bringing of the action he will also have to pay the costs of the trial. Where, then, the values are small and the services great, the award and costs may leave a very small sum in net value for the owner; but he is still the owner until the time comes when, he having failed to satisfy the judgment, the res against which the action is brought is sold by order of the court. Then the proceeds of the sale are "brought into court." The claims of the salvor are first satisfied, and then the balance goes to the original owners.—ED. J. C.]

CHINESE IN AUSTRALIA.

THE IMMIGRATION QUESTION.

MR. QUONG TART AND THE AUSTRALIAN PREMIERS.

Mr. Quong Tart has forwarded to us copies of correspondence that passed between himself and the recent conference of Premiers at Hobart. In his letter to the conference on January 26th, Mr. Tart says that he had been requested to write by a deputation from the Chinese merchants of Sydney, and by the recognised heads of the various Chinese districts in New South Wales, and by the leading Chinese merchants in other Australian colonies. "The serious and special disabilities under which Chinese residents in the various colonies now suffer are the result of enactments of the Legislatures of the various colonies which were passed with a view to uniform action, and, therefore, the mitigation of those disabilities can be best secured by the adoption of uniform remedies on the part of each colony. We do not," he wrote, "presume to comment upon the broad question of the restriction of the immigration of Chinese but we would esteem it a great favor if your conference would take into consideration the matters of detail mentioned in this letter. 1. That Chinese who are lawfully resident in the various colonies are greatly hampered and in many cases suffer very serious financial loss in their commercial undertakings by reason of the difficulty, and in many cases the impossibility, of a Chinese resident obtaining permission to pass from one colony to another on a temporary visit. 2. That the difficulty above-mentioned of passing from one colony to another on a temporary visit is frequently the cause of very great sorrow and trouble in cases of the sickness or death of blood relations and intimate friends. 3. That Chinese passengers by any vessel touching en route at a port in an Australasian colony which is not the destination of such Chinese passengers are not allowed to land at that port, but are compelled to remain on board such vessel. This restriction is, in many cases, a serious inconvenience to such Chinese passengers, and is, we would respectfully point out, an indignity which it is both possible and desirable to avoid." Other disabilities mentioned are as follows: "1. A Chinese resident of one colony who has commercial interests in another colony is unable to visit that other colony for the purpose of giving to those interests personal supervision. 2. A Chinese resident of one colony is unable to visit the deathbed of a relation or an intimate friend in another colony for the purpose of receiving his instructions or of gratifying sentiments of love and affection. 3 A Chinese passenger, voyaging to or from China, is unable to land at any port of call in a colony other than that for which he is bound. This is the cause of particular hardship in the case of Chinese passengers, particularly in the case of female Chinese passengers, who suffer from the effects of a sea voyage, or who are suffering from serious illness from other causes." The reply to his letter is dated April, 11th, 1895, and is as follows: "Sir,—I have the honour to acknowledge the receipt of you letter of the 2nd instant in reference to a communication which you addressed to the conference of Premiers in January last on the subject of the disabilities of Chinese residents in the Australasian colonies. I regret to have to inform you that time did not admit of the discussion by the conference of this and many other important questions outside that of federation.—I have, &c., E. Braddon."

Mr. Quong Tart writes now saying:—"I wish my fellow-countrymen, at whose request I have acted, to know the steps which I have taken, and the present result of these steps, and I would like to bring before the notice of the public the very serious hardships which arise in connection with the administration of the Act for restricting the immigration of Chinese. We feel sure that the press and the public will admit the reasonableness of our appeal for some mitigation of the disabilities under which we suffer. We do not ask for any infringement of the principle of restricting Chinese immigration."

We have here given the gist of Mr. Quong Tart's correspondence and before dealing with the question invite opinions from all whom the issues involved may concern.

JAPANESE MARINE COURT OF INQUIRY.

THE COLLISION BETWEEN THE "NATAL" AND A JUNK.

PILOT JAMES LEAVES THE COURT IN A "HUFF."

A remarkable scene occurred at the Harbour Master's Office, Kobe, on the 3rd of June, where Mr. H. D. James, holding a pilot's certificate, appeared to be examined in the inquiry which was then going on into the circumstances attending a collision that took place between the Messageries steamer Natal and the junk Yethomaru as long ago as the 10th September last. The matter has been before the French Court for some time on a claim for damage by the owner of the junk, and we understand that after the evidence had been laid before the French Consul-General in Yokohama it was determined to place the whole of the facts before a body composed of French naval officers assisted by Japanese. This, we take it, should have been an arbitration rather than a legal inquiry, but the proceedings in the French Court have, of course, nothing to do with the Japanese inquiry. At the sitting yesterday, says the Kobe Chronicle of the 4th June, Mr. James appeared with Mr. Crosse as his legal adviser. He was informed that Mr. Crosse could be present at the inquiry, but could not appear for him. Mr. James then asked if the Court was legally constituted, and was told it was ordered by the Mercantile Marine Bureau, whereupon he declined, unless summoned through his own Consul, to give evidence until the witnesses who had already been examined at Osaka were present. After making this statement, Mr. James, throwing his licence on to the table, left the room, accompanied by Mr. Crosse.

The following is the official report:—

This is the second sitting of the Court. The first sitting of the Court of Inquiry into the circumstances attending the collision between the M.M. steamer Natal and a Japanese junk took place at the Osaka Shikenjo on the 12th of April, 1895, after having been postponed on account of Mr. H. D. James' business engagements from the 5th to the 11th of April, and again to the 12th of April. On that day, the master of the junk Yetho-maru and one of the crew were examined, but owing to the non-appearance of Mr. H. D. James, who was piloting the steamship Natal at the time of the collision, and who had been requested to attend, the inquiry had to be again postponed, and to suit Pilot James' convenience, he was requested to name a day when he would be able to attend. On the 27th of May Mr. James appointed the 28th May as suitable to him for attending the inquiry at the Harbour Master's Office at Kobe, but owing to the want of sufficient notice, the officers of the Court were unable to reach Kobe from Osaka on that day, and the inquiry was therefore postponed until the next day, Wednesday, the 29th of May. Mr. James, however, left Kobe on the evening of the 28th after having acked by letter for the postponement of the inquiry until Monday, the 3rd of June, which request being granted, the officers of the Court came to Kobe this day, and the Court was opened at the Harbour Master's office at 10 o'clock to-day, Monday, the 3rd of June, 1895.

The Court consisted of Mr. Nagura Noriaki, the president, Mr. Kano Monkichi, assessor, and J. J. Mahlmann, assessor and adviser.

Mr. James being present, the Court stated the reason why the inquiry had been ordered, namely, for an examination into the circumstances attending the collision between the French mail steamship Natal and a Japanese junk in the Inland Sea on the 10th of September, 1894. Mr. Crosse asked to appear on behalf of Mr. James, but he was informed that he could remain present and take notes. Mr. James raised a question as to the Court being legally constituted, and was informed that it had been ordered by the Director of the Mercantile Marine Bureau, Tokyo. He then refused to answer any questions put to him by the Court, unless the Court was ordered by the Mercantile Marine Bureau and he had been legally summoned through his Consul, and had the witnesses in Court. He then threw his license, No. 16, for the district from the Gulf of Tokyo, via the Inland Sea, before the Court, and walked out of the Court-room. The Court thereupon rose.

FOOCHOW NOTES.

FOOCHOW, June 8th.

The Scurry Meeting took place on Thursday last and was a great success. The first race was not run until 5 o'clock by which time the sun had lost its power and there was a cool breeze blowing. There was a very large attendance on the course.

Although the tone of the tea market is quiet the business passing is considerable, which is to be accounted for by the earlier date fixed for the departure of the first Australian steamers this season. According to the Chinese, the first crop of tea is much smaller than last year. The export to Europe is in excess of last season by 1½ million lbs. but this occurs though the large cargo taken by the Pakling on the 9th June, last year, not being as yet included in the comparative figures.

There was no "Mutual" greyhound to load as "first steamer" with the new season's tea this year, and there has been some little wagering going on as to which of the three steamers, namely, the Priam, Shanghai or Glengyle will be first home. We understand that 2 to 1 was laid against each of them and that each of them found backers.

THE SCURRY MEETING.

After two false starts, or in other words after having been twice advertised for earlier dates and twice postponed through circumstances over which the Stewards had no control, the Scurry Meeting took place on Thursday with great éclat. There was almost all the pomp and show of one of our regular Race meetings attending it. This was no doubt entirely due to the lovely weather which tempted nearly the whole community to congregate on the course. A bright blue sky and warm sun, tempered by a cool breeze and a temperature of 70 degrees in the shade, made it the perfection of racing weather. The ladies were bright, amiable and well dressed and the men chatty and agreeable. As regards the latter there were no anxious faces, as there were no "ponies" or "monkeys" to be lost or won; any little speculation was confined to a chance or two in the Totalizator. If there was nothing particularly exciting about the racing, what did it matter? Spectators came to spend a pleasant afternoon and they were not disappointed. The events were as follows:—

SCURRY STAKES; Of $3 each with $10 added; for all China ponies; weights as per scale. One mile.

Kindar, 140lb	Owner 1
Yarra, *155lb	Mr. Oswald 2
Boldheart, 155lb	Mr. Drummond 0

* 3lb over.

Yarra ran remarkably well to the top of the straight but Kindar was too much for him and won by 5 lengths. Boldheart pulled up at the 1 mile post. Time, 2min. 18sec.

THE FLYAWAY STAKES; Of $3 each with $10 added; for all China ponies; weights as per scale. Half a mile.

Bonbon, †160lb	Mr. Oswald 1
Phœbus, 158lb	Mr. Esher 2
Acteon, 160lb	Mr. Bucknell 0

† 5lb over.

Bonbon had the race to himself, the other two probably not having thoroughly recovered from their sea voyage. Phœbus was 3 lengths behind the winner at the post and Acteon 2 to 3 lengths behind the second. Time, 64sec.

SMOKERS STAKES; riders to start at mile post, dismount at the stand, open and drink bottle of Seltzer water, light cheroot, remount, and ride once round. Winner to have cheroot alight when dismounting. Entrance $3. Post entries.

Debonaire	Mr. Edgar 1
Monte Carlo	Mr. Oswald 2
Macaroon	Mr. Esher 0

This race caused unusual merriment. Coming from the 1 mile post to the stand at racing pace the riders, as may be imagined, found considerable difficulty in gulping down the seltzer water from the bottle, then the matches behaved badly and wouldn't light the cheroots, but worst of all was the mounting with the umbrellas; the animals would run round and round in a ring. Mr. Oswald exasperated, vaulted into the saddle, but a swerve of the pony sent him over the other side when he was dragged some twenty yards by the reins which he pluckily held on to and was finally able to mount, but Mr. Edgar in the meantime was away and so came in first. Mr. Esher's mount evidently took a greater dislike to the gamp than the others and was out of the hunt in consequence.

THE MUTTON CUP; presented by Capt. Wells; for all China ponies; weights as per scale; winners at this meeting 10lbs. extra. Once round.

Bonbon, † 162lb	Mr. Oswald 1
Ratafia, 159lb	Mr. Bucknell 2
Kingston, 155lb	Mr. Greaves 3

† 10lb over.

Bonbon took the lead and kept it to the end winning by 5 lengths. Kingston appeared to be running in second but Ratafia was ridden well home and beat him by half a length. Time, 1 min. 26 sec.

SCURRY CHAMPIONS STAKES; of $5 each with $15 added; for all China ponies; weights as per scale. One quarter mile.

Yarra, †154lb	Mr. Oswald 1
Phœbus, ‡158lb	Mr. Greaves 2
Gleaner, 159lb	Mr. Bucknell 3

† 4lb. over. ‡ 10lb. over.

The ancient Yarra had no doubt the race in hand but Phœbus made him gallop and only allowed him to win by a length, Gleaner gave in after going half the distance.

Time, 2min. 59sec. —Echo.
